

ANOTHER WEEK OF WEDDINGS

Miss Nash and Mr. Cartan to be married at St. Cecilia's Thursday evening.

LECTURE ON TOLSTOJ AT TEMPLE ISRAEL

Brownell Hall. George Danne-Haskell Young. Man Got Confused. Minor Dances of the Past Days Among the Smart Folks.

This will be a week of weddings, Thursday having been chosen by three brides to be upon which day they will enter the matrimonial state.

Miss Nash will be attended by her two sisters, Miss Mary Nash and Miss Adelaide Nash, as bridesmaids, the best man being Mr. W. J. Cartan, who has arrived from Los Angeles to participate in the nuptial ceremonies.

In honor of the approaching marriage a series of teas and luncheons were given last week for Miss Nash, who is one of Omaha's most accomplished and most charming young women.

Ausland, president; Miss Lizzie Hayes, secretary; Miss Ethel Mead, treasurer; Bertha Phillipi was queen of the May, Margaret Phillipi was crown bearer and the maids of honor, Myra Breckenridge, Anna and Grace Robbraugh. Besides the May pole and scarf drill Miss Daphne Carr delighted the audience with her correct Deltaic posing and a poem by Letta Robbraugh was sung by Miss Myra Breckenridge. A temperance recitation by Master George Phillipi was spoken exceedingly well. Miss Alma Ringer also deserves praise, as she has proved herself an adept pianist for children's entertainments.

Last Rites of the Class of Ninety-Five. The class exercises of the Class of Ninety-Five were held in the main room of the Woman's club apartment Tuesday evening commencing at 7:30. The room was beautifully decorated with flowers and smilax. The pillars in the center of the room were twined with hunting in the class colors, green and white, and over the platform in a central position was a floral emblem, composed of the figures "1895" in white flowers on a green background. On the platform were a number of flags, and on the other a table with punch bowl and glasses, bits of green showing inconspicuously in a green among the white. A party table lunch consisting of Mr. Earnest Sheldon, president of the class, opened the program with a speech, in which he congratulated the graduates of the girls, because they were not only pretty but womanly, and of the boys, because they were chivalrous and manly. He ended by announcing that the piano by Miss Grace Reed, very much enjoyed by the large audience. The history of the first two years of the class was given by Miss Grace Reed, clearly and interestingly related by Mr. Gordon Clarke, followed by "Shubert's Serenade," sung in a beautiful manner by Alice Brown, and "The Song of the Lark," sung by Miss Annie Myers, was very pleasing. Mr. Jesse Merritt propounded "School Conundrums" in such a delightfully humorous way that he was many times obliged to sit for the laughter to subside before continuing.

A unique feature of the afternoon's program was the reading of the "School Conundrums" in such a delightfully humorous way that he was many times obliged to sit for the laughter to subside before continuing.

BAETENS WRITES ON HARMONY

Series of Articles by One of Omaha's Music Teachers to be Published Weekly.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC COMMENCEMENT

"Romeo and Juliet," a Musical Burlesque, with Well Known Omaha People in the Cast. Will Follow the Famous Topsy at Boyd's.

Summer is the playtime of the musician. It is his or her rest period from the arduous and exacting duties of the profession. Some there who are permitted to enjoy a period of relaxation from hours of practice and get away to the mountains, ledge or shore. Others, however, are not so conditioned, and they are compelled to remain at home, exacting, however, from the rest strength to renew the battle of the musician's life when the days of summer have gone and the crisp, bracing atmosphere is indicative of another recurring "season."

For the stay-at-homes, for those who desire to keep in touch with musical thought, the musical editor of The Bee has arranged with Dr. Charles Baetens for a series of characteristic articles along musical lines. The reputation of Dr. Baetens is so well known in the community that it would seem wholly unnecessary to speak of his qualifications. With fifty years almost to his credit as a musician, he is in a position to lead the younger musicians to higher planes of musical knowledge, and he sets about doing this in the following article:

A FEW WORDS ON HARMONY. It is a question of practice to give musical lectures in the form of concerts, interspersed with anecdotes of the masters whose compositions they include, with perhaps a chronological notice of the rise and decline of the various styles those composers exemplify. In pursuing a different course from this of presenting musical performances with, shall I say, historical illustrations, it may not be well to endeavor to emulate the pattern of great men in all departments of knowledge, and I shall be glad to communicate any insight into the technical principles of music which you receive upon other subjects. I presuppose that the announcement of the above theme will find you prepared to look for a series of technical analogies to the musical exemplar. The second recital and concert series, under the auspices of the Kewport League was given in the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, corner Binney and Twenty-first streets, on Monday night. This was a first-class entertainment in every particular. The concert, both in its selection and in its execution, was of a high order. The talent employed giving evidence of training and artistic merit. The members of the orchestra were at their best. Mr. H. H. Staley rendered two vocal solos, which deserved the applause they called forth. Mrs. Jessie Brown-Crommett, a post graduate of the Conservatory of Music, gave a selection from modern American authors. A noticeable selection was her rendering of "The Song of the Lark" by Richard Harding Davis. The dramatic force and power with which she presented the "Boy Orator's" plea in contrast with the prayer of the boy, and the high sounding oratory of secondary consideration when compared with the purpose which she had in mind, and the high sounding oratory of secondary consideration when compared with the purpose which she had in mind, and the high sounding oratory of secondary consideration when compared with the purpose which she had in mind.

Eugene Ysaie, the great violinist, will be at Boyd's June 11. Ysaie was but a name of European renown to the musical people of America up till a few months ago, when he appeared in New York and Chicago. He has since then been in the press in the entire United States has devoted plenty of space to him, and wherever he has played he has had the same enthusiastic reception. Undoubtedly M. Ysaie is a great artist. The general comparison seems to be with Wieniawski, but all the critics agree in giving the first rank to Ysaie. He is the violinist of May 25 says: "The house was absolutely and literally packed with an audience in which were the most cultivated and fashionable people of the city. The evening was a triumph in every way." It is to be expected that he will be in Omaha with where M. Ysaie has appeared and fill the Boyd from pit to gallery. Sale for reserved seats is going on at Adolph Meyer's music store, 15th and Douglas. Seats for those contemplating going to get seats at once.

BUY WHEAT. The present condition of the market makes it an absolute certainty that wheat will sell in the near future for 85c or over. The present supply of wheat is forty million bushels short, and the chinch bugs, Russian flies, drought and frosts have made a short crop for the coming season a certainty. It is a significant fact that the buyers on the present market are farmers and outsiders, who know the actual condition of the crop. There is a demand for cheap wheat almost regardless of price. Millers are securing the country for wheat and are paying extra money high prices for it. Country elevator stocks are exhausted and outside mills have been obliged to shut down. Never in the history of the country was there such an opportunity for outsiders to make money with small investments. Write us for our FREE booklet on speculation in grain, stocks and provisions, and get our DAILY MARKET LETTER. THOMAS & O., Bankers and Brokers, 842 Union Building, CHICAGO.
